8. Samuel Conger (Samuel-2, Jonathan-1) was born on 8 Apr 1753 in Newark, Essex Co., NJ. He died on 22 Aug 1826 at the age of 73 in Newark, Essex Co., NJ. Samuel Conger

PARENTS: Samuel Conger and Joanna Crane

BIOGRAPHY: The following anecdote is told in Shaw's "History of Essex and Hudson Counties," Vol. 44.

"The Conger family was worthily represented in the army by Lt. Samuel Conger. The type of man the lieutenant was is revealed by an incident. When the war closed, the country considered the subject of bestowing pensions on its heroes. Lt. Conger was asked if he wanted one. Promptly he replied, "No. I want no pension, at least not as long as I can shoot a shuttle."

He was a weaver by occupation and disdained to ask for government support.

Joshiah Beach was a weaver and farmer in Newark, [NJ], with a shop on Broadway, across from Samuel Conger, whose weaving shop was next door to the Bruen's cabinet making shop.

(Source: The Conger Family of America, Vol. I, p. 454 - Maxine Crowell Leonard)

RECOLLECTIONS: Samuel Hays Conger died in the same house in which he was born, at the age of 76 years. As the Newark antiquarian for the New Jersey Historical Society he was the first of his family to collect Conger family records.

(Source: The Conger Family of America, Vol. I, 42a - Maxine Crowell Leonard)

RESEARCHER: Earliest Conger Researcher

It appears that the first Conger family genealogist was Samuel Hayes Conger, born on 10 Dec 1796 at Newark, NJ. Records reveal, "An attempt being made in 1845 to utilize the old burying ground in Newark, by appropriating it to other purposes, Mr. Conger's interest in the remains of his ancestors therein deposited, led him to take an active part in the opposition to the so-called improvements; and extended researches into the genealogies of the families interested were the result.

"He became a member of the New Jersey Historical Society in May 1848, and was appointed librarian in 1852, an office for which his tastes rendered him particularly well qualified. The genealogies which he contributed to the volume issued by that society in 1866, in commemoration of the bi-centennial celebration of the settlement of Newark, added material to its interest; and he also took an active part in editing the town records published by that society in 1864." He wrote many articles in the "Newark Daily Advertiser."

Although Samuel Conger spent a good deal of time recording his ancestry, there is no record of posterity. There is no record in the Conger files of his son, Henry, born 15 Aug 1835 and died 21 Feb 1904.

FATHER: Isaiah David Hart

BIOGRAPHY:

Ossian Bingley Hart (January 17, 1821 – March 18, 1874) was the tenth Governor of the U.S. state of Florida, and the first governor of Florida who was born in the state. Born in Jacksonville to Isaiah Hart, one of the city's founders, he was raised on his father's plantation along the St. Johns River. He was a lawyer in Jacksonville. He moved to a farm near Fort Pierce, Florida in 1843, where he became a founding member of the St. Lucie County Board of Commissioners. In 1845, Hart became Florida State Representative for St. Lucia County. In 1846 he moved to Key West where he resumed his law practice. In 1856, he moved to Tampa, Florida.

Despite his upbringing, Hart was a Republican and openly opposed secession from the United States, causing some difficult times for him during the American Civil War. Following the war, he helped reestablish the governments of the state and of the city of Jacksonville. In 1868, he was appointed a justice of the Florida Supreme Court. In 1870, he ran unsuccessfully for U.S. Congress, only to be elected governor two years later on January 7, 1873. He appointed Jonathan Clarkson Gibbs as Florida's first African American Superintendent of Public Instruction. Following the campaign, he fell ill with pneumonia and died in Jacksonville. He was succeeded by lieutenant governor Marcellus Stearns, Florida's last Republican governor until 1967.
